

"New Purchases for my next Christmas Village"

Article #1

27 september, 2022 by Peppe Apuleo

Dear friends, a warm greeting to all of you is my first article after the August holiday break. At the beginning of September I opened the boxes with new purchases of lemax buildings collection 2022, I am pleased to share these purchases with all of you. A few weeks ago I started the construction of the next Christmas village, first the zoo area, and then continue with an amusement park with rides and characters and then design and set up the city.

Bottling Company

Since 1902, the Christmas Cheer Bottling Company has been supplying Caddington Village with all the drinks needed for the festive table and holiday celebrations. The plant is a busy operation with the workers brewing and bottling the beer as well as moving barrels around. They also have to stack the crates of wines and champagne to make sure everything is well-stocked and no one runs out of drinks with which to toast happy holidays.

One of the most popular food shopping destinations at Christmas in Caddington Village, the Dutch Cheese Festival and Farmers Market is the place to pick up some special goodies for the holiday table. At 11 am every day, you can enjoy the spectacle of the workers in traditional garb hauling and stacking the cheese wheels. Fill your shopping bag with various cheeses, charcuterie and fresh produce.

This group of Alpine Winter Shops is an important destination in Vail Village. Among the stores is the Skate and Ski Rentals store where everyone can get the equipment they need for fun on the slopes or the ice. There's the muffin shop and hot cocoa stall for refreshments. And, for that all-important apres-ski session, the Schnapps & Strudel Saloon offers a warm and friendly welcome.

There is something so magical about every village at the height of Christmas, and the Tis The Season Shops are a perfect snapshot of that magic! With lights that flash in different colors on the roof tree and along the cornices, this little shopping enclave is as festive as can be. Of course, there is a wine bar close by so you can whet your whistle after a hard afternoon of gift buying!

These are the first 4 pieces that I am studying how to place them in the various areas of the next village, below a very colorful piece of the carnival, full of characters but above all of fascinating music, at least for my taste.

Note: more articles with buildings and characters will follow

Step aboard Santa's Freeze Zone if you dare, one of Carnival Village's most thrilling attractions! Riders rise up into the sky before being plunged down to the ground, all in the setting of a giant thermometer. Believe us when we say that you will have never seen temperatures plummet as fast as when you are hurtling from the clouds. It's a real screamfest. Don't worry, though, it's all safe and secure!
